DEATH OF DR. MYERS.

Rev. Dr. E. H. Myers, who died in Savannah, yesterday morning, was one of the ablest and most promising ministers in the country. He, too, died at his post, after weeks spent in the noblest work the year has developed. He literally laid down his life for his people.

His was an active and useful career For many years he edited the Christian Advocate, both at Charleston and Macon. He was also president of the Wesleyan female college. About two years ago he entered the field of active ministerial labor, and was assigned to Trinity church in Savannah. He was a member of the last general conference, and was chairman of the conference committee from the church south that negotiated the plan of fraternization between the two great branches of Methodism. These facts sufficiently show the nature of Dr. Myers' eminent service.

At the time of his death he was about fifty years of age. A life of rare promise was before him, for he was in the full strength of all his powers. Duty and death called him when his future was the brightest. But he did not hesitate for a moment. He did not leave the ill-fated city for a single hour after he reached it. The tears of a wife and six children are mingled with the deep regrets of his church and of the whole state. A heroic death crowned a devoted Christian life!

THE democratic executive committee for the seventh congressional district, met at Kingston, Ga., (yesterday) September 25, and permanently organized, by electing Colonel Thomas R. Jones, of Whitfield, chairman and W. P. McClatchy, of Cobb, secretary.

THE COMING UPSHOT.

The Party that is Coming to the Front in South Carolina.

H. V. R.'s Letter to the Cincinnati Commercial.

In Tennessee the whites are largely in the majority, and the blacks take no part in the government except to vote, and it makes no difference how they vote, as between the races, as the whites are two to one in the majority. In South Carolina the blacks are largely in the majority; they are the governing power, and thus it happens that one southern state is very quiet, and all moves along well, while the other is in a condition bordering on anarchy, and will be until the whites come to the top. The blacks submit to the majority; the whites do not. And it is an error to suppose that the rising generation in the south will submit to be ruled by the blacks, be the black majority what it may. The black majority in South Carolina, Mississippi and Louisiana will be overcome—if not in one way, then in another. Nothing can keep the whites under except a war each generation. The generation that is thoroughly whipped out will submit, but the next and the next will revolt, and so on forever. Revolt, I mean, against local black government, just as they did in Mississippi last fall, and just as they are doing now in South Carolina. Suppose they should succeed in overthrowing the local government here, and the federal authority should set it up again, how long would it stay up? Until uncle Uncle Sam got his back turned. Nothing less than a standing army—continued application of force—can sustain the government of the republican party in any of the cotton states.

Well, suppose the democrats should elect a president, what then? The black governments in the cotton states would fall like blocks of cards, nor would the national democracy trouble themselves to set the same up again. We could write "finis" over each.

You must recollect that there is now a generation in the south who took no part in the war—they have come upon the boards since—and it is this generation of young America that are taking such active steps towards "redeeming" South Carolina, that are forming rifle clubs, sabre companies and the like. The object is to do a good deal of parading around at night, and intimidate the blacks by a display of force, but without a resort to actual violence.

THIS IS THE LAST PLAN,

and if it fails to work now, it will be tried at the next election, with a little stiffer attention to details. But gain the victory the whites certainly will—if not at this election, then at the next. If not in one way, then in another. It is merely a question of time.

No Fever in Augusta

AUGUSTA, GA. Sept. 26, 1876.

The fever excitement in this city has died out, and the wild report circulated in Atlanta and other places yesterday came near seriously injuring business here. The rumors that there was yellow fever cases in the city has been silenced by the report of the board of health, together with the resolutions of physicians. There is no more than the usual amount of sickness in the city at this particular season. No one here to-day apprehends an epidemic, and everybody is anxious that outsiders may know the true condition. Should a single case occur, the public will at once be advised of the fact.

A WIFE'S SACRIFICE.

Telegraphed to by a Dying Husband—She Goes into the Jaws of Death.

Augusta Constitutionalist, 26th.

The many friends of Mr. Thomas M. Jackson, of this city, where he was raised and is well known, will be pained to learn of his critical condition in Savannah. A day or two since his family, who were in the city, received a dispatch to that effect, and of course the utmost anxiety prevailed among his family and friends. About four o'clock yesterday afternoon a dispatch was received stating that he was very low, and in an hour or two afterwards another came saying he had black vomit, and urged his wife to come down at once, as he would be disappointed unless she did so.

At 7 o'clock last evening, Mrs. Jackson, together with her mother and Mr. Jackson's mother left on a special train for Savannah.

In Charleston.

Journal of Commerce.

The fever is still confined to the locality in which it first made its appearance, in the northeastern section of the city, and but four deaths have occurred. The board of health are very vigilant in their efforts at hygiene, and the streets have been sprinkled with carbolic acid.

It has been suggested that it would be proper to establish a yellow fever hospital somewhere in the northeastern section of the city. Some store yards might easily be fitted up for this purpose. Patients would not have to be removed to any great distance, and the fever would not be carried about.

News and Courier, 25th.

In response to an inquiry from a reporter for the News and Courier, Mr. S. S. Solomons, the general superintendent of the South Carolina railroad, furnishes the following statement of the number of passengers who have left the city recently.

From Sept. 16 to Sept. 23, 1875...... 406
From Sept. 16 to Sept. 23, 1876...... 440

This is the actual number of people who have left the city over that road on four trains a day. Alarmists are requested to take a back seat.

No official report concerning the few cases of yellow fever with which Charleston has been plagued has will be published until Wednesday, but dilligent inquiry warrants the positive statement that there have been no new cases during the last two days, and that the whole number of deaths is only four or five. The fever is apparently at a dead halt, and the belief that it will not spread grows hourly stronger. It is capable of proof, we believe, that the cases already reported were not strictly speaking of local origin, and the weather is such that we see no present cause for anxiety.

In Savannah.

Savannah News.

The number of interments reported on Saturday is the largest since the appearance of the epidemic, the total being forty-six, of which thirty were yellow fever cases. This sudden and unexpected increase of the mortality, with the reports of new cases, including many well known citizens, which were current on the streets, cast, if possible, a deeper gloom over our stricken community, and Saturday and Sunday were days of peculiar sadness. The general despondency was, however, somewhat relieved last evening as the report for the day became known, and it was discovered that there was a diminution of just one-half in the mortality of yesterday as compared with the day previous, the total interments on Sunday being twenty-three, of which eighteen were yellow fever cases. With such a favorable change we endeavor to be hopeful, but while the sick list is undiminished, and many cases of well known citizens and friends are regarded as of doubtful issue, we dread the sad disappointment which the next day's record may bring.

In Brunswick.

Macon Telegraph, 25th.

We are without any definite reports from Brunswick yesterday morning. There was no telegraphic communication yesterday afternoon between that city and Macon, the last operator there being down with the prevailing epidemic.

Those who came up on the train yesterday report a better condition of things and a more hopeful feeling on Sunday. There were fewer new cases and fewer deaths.

A physician and six lady nurses from New Orleans passed through yesterday on their way to Brunswick. They reached Macon about midnight and left immediately on a special train which took them into Brunswick about 9 o'clock yesterday morning. Another nurse came down from Atlanta and went on to Brunswick yesterday morning.

Dr. E. G. Ferguson, of this city, also left yesterday morning for the same destination.

M. A Coulson and Geo. A. Dure are reported better.

Augusta.

The following private telegram was received here yesterday:

AUGUSTA, September 26.

Not a case of yellow fever in Augusta.

M. A. STOVALL,
Ch'man Relief Com.

Augusta Chronicle, 26th,

The Augusta Chronicle gives the proceedings of the board of health Sunday night, from which we make the following synopsis:

The clerk read a note from Drs. Edw. Geddings and S. C. Eve to Dr. W. H. Foster, chairman of the board of health, informing him that they regretted to announce that Mr. John Murphy had died that morning on Twiggs street, opposite the ice house, with undoubted symptoms of yellow fever, but without black vomit.

Dr. L. A. Dugas asked Dr. Eve if there had been any intermission in the fever.

Dr. Eve replied in the affirmative. The intermission had been very sensible.

Dr. Dugas said, from this statement of the case, it could not have been yellow fever. In that disease there was but one paroxysm, at the end of which the patient was either dead or convalescent.

In response to interrogatories of a reporter the following points were elected:

Dr. Dugas said that from the statement of Dr. Eve in reference to the cases he had no idea that it was yellow fever, but a high type of malarial fever. There was no cause whatever for alarm. The atmosphere was not in a condition to receive yellow fever. We were having nearly every day northwest wind, which was calculated to keep up the health of the city. It required a salt atmosphere to produce yellow fever. In 1839 the wind blew from the east for one hundred days, and in 1854 it blew from the same point for eighty days. The air was at that time as salt as it was at Savannah. He did not believe that there would be any yellow fever in Augusta the present season, nor did he think there was the slightest cause for alarm.

Mr. Edward Geddings said the symptoms in Mr. Murphy's case were those of yellow fever, but it was impossible for any physician to speak positively in regard to the first case of yellow fever. The fact that there had been no other case was the most conclusive proof to him that there was no cause for alarm in Augusta. Sporadic cases frequently occurred in cities. Where the air is infected one case is almost immediately followed by others. Mr. Murphy had been ill several days, and it was certain that there was no other case like it in the city. He did not believe that there was the slightest reason for apprehension.

Dr. S. C. Eve was better satisfied now than he had been any time since the fever commenced in Savannah. There was no cause whatever for alarm and he had advised parties who had spoken to him not to leave the city. The neighborhood where Murphy died was very sickly, and he advised patients of his years ago to leave it. He had a number of cases of malignant malarial fever in that part of the city last year, with similar symptoms to those in Murphy's case. He had also had several of these the present season. He stated, like Dr. Geddings, that it was impossible for a physician to be positive in regard to the first case of yellow fever.

Dr. W. H. Doughty did not think a case of yellow fever had occurred in Augusta, nor was it likely that there would be any.

Dr. A. H. Baker said that there were a number of cases of high malarial fever in the same neighborhood last year and some of the patients sick then had even had black vomit.

Dr. H. H. Steiner said that it would be indelicate for him to express an opinion in regard to the case in point when there were attending physicians. He could say this: Instead of packing up to leave he had just returned to the city and was unpacking to stay. It was a noted fact in the history of Augusta that the Beaver dam, in the vicinity of which Mr. Murphy died, was a very unhealthy locality, and that people living there were subject to attacks of malignant malarial diseases. It was clear, conceding that Murphy's case was one of yellow fever, that he didn't take it in the air. Allowing three days only for the period of incubation, he had been sick six days and two had elapsed since his death, making altogether over ten days. Yet there had been no other case. If it had not been a case of yellow fever contracted from the atmosphere, others would have had the disease within twenty-four hours. If he imbibed the germs from a box or trunk brought from Savannah there certainly was no cause for alarm. There was a great similarity between high types of malarial fever and yellow fever. He would advise people not to think of leaving. In 1854 no precautions whatever were taken. Cars and boats came to the city without hindrance, and there were over fifteen cases of yellow fever here, brought from Savannah and Charleston, before any one in Augusta had it. With the present stringent regulations and the fine weather there was nothing whatever to alarm the people. He knew five years ago of a case of high malarial fever in the lower part of the city, that had all the individual symptoms of yellow fever, even to black vomit. The patient recovered, and nothing was ever thought of the case. He thought that much weight should be given to the fact that malignant malarial diseases very generally prevailed in the neighborhood about the beaver dam, where Murphy died, during the latter part of September. He felt no apprehension, nor did he see any cause for any. Yellow fever was an exotic, and never originated in Augusta.

All of the physicians at the meeting Sunday night stated in response to inquiries from members of the board that they did not have a case under treatment in regard to which there was the most remote suspicion of yellow fever Mr. Murphy was taken last Tuesday, and died Sunday morning about 8 o'clock. He had been employed as a laborer at the gas works.

The Chronicle editorially says: Mr. Murphy lived in a portion of the city which is notorious for its bad sanitary condition and for its unhealthiness. Near this place excavations have been made recently. A very large excavation was commenced and prosecuted up to a few days ago, when the attention of the board of health was called to the matter. It was begun, we believe, under an order issued by Mayor Estes before he left the city, and not countermanded after his departure for the north or the work stopped until quite recently.

TWEED, THE UNWILLING PILGRIM, COMING.

Surprised at Being Placed on a Man of War—Willing to Seek his Little Grave—Measures to Thwart It, Etc., Etc.

Special to the Constitution.

Tweed's Departure.

MADRID, Sept. 26—The Franklin will take Tweed and Hunt off this week. Nothing is known about Sharkey.

Isabella remains at the palace of the Escurial until October.

VIGO, SPAIN, Sept. 26.—The steamer Franklin arrived here at 10 o'clock this morning.

Tweed was Much Surprised when told that the Franklin was to take him to the United States. He had hoped on arriving in Cuba to be able, through the assistance and influence of friends, to avoid being surrendered to the American authorities, and expressed great disappointment at the new aspect of affairs.

On arrival of the Franklin Mr. Adee, acting United States minister in the absence of Gen. Cushing, went on board and conferred with her commander regarding the proposed transfer of Messrs. Tweed and Hunt to the Franklin. The intention is to remove the prisoners from their present quarters to the steamer this evening. During their confinement in Castella del Castro Tweed and Hunt were closely guarded, and not allowed to communicate with each other. The captain general has issued strict orders that no one should be allowed to speak to them. Mr. Adee has been warned that Tweed might rather than return to New York. The commander of the Franklin has, therefore, been instructed to keep him strictly confined, and leave him no opportunity to jump overboard.

Kept in Separate Rooms,

Make Away with Himself,

What is Thought of It.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—The Herald has the following Washington special: A great deal of comment and surprise has been expressed there that so extraordinary a step as sending a United States vessel for a state prisoner has been taken. It is inferred here that it was done at the instance of Mr. Adee, charge d'affairs at the American legation, in conformity with the wishes of the Spanish government. It is thought among those capable of judging, that Mr. Fish has blundered in taking any cognizance of Tweed's case, as he is merely an offender against a state and not the federal government. Even the officials of the navy department are astonished at the seeming stretch of authority, and cannot account for any legitimate international consideration which would warrant it. A naval officer of high position says that if he were in command of the Franklin he would refuse to receive him. From the correspondence had between the navy and state departments, it is evident that Mr. Tweed was more than willing to come as a prisoner in national custody rather than remain in a Spanish prison.

Telegraphic Changes.

ALBANY, September 26.—The greenback convention adopted resolutions heartily endorsing the principles of the Indianapolis convention, and heartily support Cooper and Cavey. There can be no business prosperity till all the property is equally taxed, and demand that the bonds shall bear a just share.

The convention nominated for governor, Richard Montgomery Griffin; for lieutenant governor, Thomas Armstrong, and a full state ticket.

ATLANTA, GA., Sept. 14, 1876.

Hon. M. A. Candler—DEAR SIR—At a meeting of the democratic convention of the 5th congressional district, which convened in the city of Griffin on the 13th inst, the undersigned committee were appointed to notify you of your re-nomination, and request your acceptance of the same. In the discharge of this duty we congratulate you upon the unanimity of the convention in your indorsement, and express to you our own esteem for the faithful and efficient manner in which you have represented this district in congress, believing as we do, that the ides of November will again witness the triumph of the democratic party in this district in your overwhelming re-election. Respectfully, your friends and fellow-citizens,

E. J. ROACH, Fulton Co.
B. M. DAVIS, Houston Co.
R. L. BERNER, Monroe Co.

DECATUR, GA. Sept. 26, 1876.

Messrs. E. J. Roach, B. M. Davis and R. L. Berner, Committee:

GENTLEMEN: Your communication informing me that the democratic convention of the fifth congressional district, in the city of Griffin on the 13th inst., had nominated me as a candidate to represent that district in the next congress, and requesting my acceptance of that nomination, has been received. This nomination is accepted with a high appreciation of the confidence which dictated it, a deep sense of the responsibility it imposes, and with the hope that my efforts may be such as to show me deserving that confidence and equal to that responsibility.

The issues of the campaign upon which we have entered are the most important in our political history.

The sixteen years of republican administration which the country has endured is a history of outrage upon constitutional liberty, reckless disregard of all constitutional obligation, and a steady march to corrupt and centralized despotism. The declared principles of the party and its every step threaten the integrity of that political system which has given honor to the country abroad, and happiness to the people; endanger the peace of our homes; and commend corrupt, wicked and oppressive government.

In the success of the democratic party there is hope that the union of the states will be re-established in the hearts of the people; that the civil power shall not be subordinated to that of the military; that local self-government shall everywhere be restored and a tax-burdened people shall find relief. To make that success certain every personal interest should be laid aside, and every selfish ambition ignored, the most patient vigilance kept, and the most earnest and determined effort made by every true democrat. Without this, republican rule is continued, sectional hate perpetuated, the equality and rights of the states destroyed, national honor is a byword and reproach, despotism is established and liberty lost.

Uniting with you in the hope that the election of November shall be the triumph of the democratic party, not alone in this congressional district, but in all the union, and thanking you for the kind terms used in notifying me of the action of the convention, I am

Yours most respectfully,
MILTON A. CANDLER.

No Insurrection.

PARIS, September 26.—The reports of the imminence of the insurrection in Algeria have been denied.

Great Destitution.

HAVANA, Sept. 26.—Terrible suffering is being experienced in Puerto Principe, formerly one of the richest cities of the island. Four thousand rations are distributed in the market to the poor twice a week. The Spaniards are fortifying their approaches to Cienfuegas from both land and sea with heavy guns and detached forts.

Running Through.

WASHINGTON, September 26.—The damage caused by the heavy rains along the Virginia Midland railroad have been repaired, and trains are now running on schedule time.

The Riflers.

The teams were not full and the count was kept only of individual scores. Fenlow, Irish, 48 out of 50; Roe, Scotch, made 44; Weber, American, 47; Slade, Australian, 45. These were the best shots by the respective teams.

HAVANA, September 26.—Hurricane in Martinique on Sunday. Telegraph wires down. No details.

CITY OF MEXICO, Sept. 12.—General Escobedo, the new secretary of war, shows great activity in bringing the army to the highest standard. Gen. Alatorre will soon have 8,000 regulars around him, constituting the finest army Mexico ever had. His headquarters are at Tehuacan, midway between Vaxaca and Pueblo.

Diaz is reported marching on Pueblo with about 3,000 men, of whom only 400 are well armed.

Hopes are entertained that the coming battle will be the last, and will decide the question of the revolution.

The fillibuster, Eakeo, who commanded a company of revolutionists in Coahuila, has been taken prisoner and will doubtless be shot. The Two Republics warns the public to put no trust in the news published by the El Progress of Brownsville, that sheet being one of the so called regenerating journals. The Mexican government will probably recognize the English debt and make some arrangement with bondholders. A recent decree imposes a duty of four cents per kilogramme on sulpher imported to Mexico. Congress meets today, will receive the president to-morrow and proceed to business on the 18th. The session is looked forward to with considerable anxiety as a culmination of the present crisis. In the meanwhile all military operations are at a stand still.

The Awards.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 26. — Judges have made between fourteen and fifteen thousand awards, of which four thousand have been approved, and which will be presented to-morrow night.

INVEIGLING THE INDIANS.

THEY ARE INDUCED AT LAST TO SIGN THE TREATY.

They Accuse Grant of Acting in Bad Faith Toward Them—Miscellaneous News from Other Sources.

Special Telegram to the Constitution.

SPOTTED TAIL AGENCY, Sept. 22.—All the commissioners were present in council

Spotted Tail made a long speech setting forth how the treaties have been Violated by Great Father.

He said: This is the country where my people were born; where they have acquired all this property, their children and their horses. You have come here to buy this country of us, and it would be well if you would come with the goods you propose to give us and to put them out of your hand, so we can see the goods, the price you propose to pay for it.

Concerning the War

he says, this seems to me to be a very hard day. Half of our country is at war and we have come upon very difficult times. This war did not spring up here in our hands, it was brought on us by the children of the Great Father who come to take our land from us without price and who do a great many evil things. The Great Father and his children are to blame for this trouble.

The Treaty Concluded

SPOTTED TAIL AGENCY, September 25.—A treaty with the Indians of the Spotted Tail agency was concluded this evening, after three hours counsel.

Spotted Tail made another long speech, and in which he insisted on going down to the Indian territory first, looking at country and then going to Washington to talk with the great father, and at the same time. He also insisted on a delay on signing the treaty till the present war was satisfactorily settled.

Touch the Pen

Spotted Tail arose and left the council. While outside E. W. Raymond, a white man who has been living with Spotted Tail's people for the last twenty-seven years, told him if he did not sign the treaty that Red Cloud of him and derive all the advantages to be had from the treaty. Raynard then went to the chiefs of the Red Cloud agency, who were on the outside of the council room, and told them to go in and urge Spotted Tail and his people to sign. They did so, making short but effective speeches and them withdrew, whereupon Two-Strike said the reason that we are afraid to touch the pen and are silent before you is beceause we have been

Would Get Ahead

Deceived so Many Times

before. If we knew the words you tell us were true we should be willing to sign every day. Then Spotted Tail addressed his people, saying: If our friends up above (referring to the Red Cloud agency) have not signed the treaty I would help them in holding out, but as our friends up there have signed, I ask all good men who are trustworthy to come up and sign. Half an hour later the necessary signatures were attached and Prolonging the Armistice.

BELGRADE, September 26.—The diplomatic agents here presented notices to Milan this morning announcing that the porte had agreed to prolong the suspension of hostilities and terms of peace proposed by the powers. The Servian government asked their reply to the porte's proposition for the suspension of hostilities.

Opposed to Peace.

The war party and Russian officers are trying to prevent Servia from assenting. There is much doubt as to the course the prince will pursue.

LONDON, Sept. 26.—A Berlin dispatch to the Times says that the Russian government has ordered the preparation of registers of the horses liable to be seized in case of war.

A correspondent remarks that the preliminary agreement of the powers on the terms of peace are vague enough to admit of different interpretations.

Russia's Warlike Measures are evidently intended to support the construction that will shortly be placed upon the present arrangement by the St. Petersburg diplomacy.

A dispatch to the Reuter's company from Belgrade says that the Servian government has given formal notice to all its military commanders of the prolongation of the suspension of hostilities.

The Russian consul in an interview with Milan yesterday, pointed out to him that Europe regarded the proclamation of the army declaring him king with displeasure, and advised him to summon Tchernayoff to Belgrade and explain to him that the acceptance of the royal title would cause fresh complications.

The Austrian consul asked for explanations concerning Gen. Tchernayoff's proclamation. Prince Milan replied that he was endeavoring to arrange the matter in a manner showing due consideration for the feelings of the army, whose support was absolutely necessary to him. He said that Gen. Tchernayoff's army adhered to the proclamation despite the dissuasion of the war minister. He added that a definite resolution concerning the proclamation would be taken when the war minister returned from the camp.

Aid to Bulgaria.

LONDON, Sept. 26.—The porte has telegraphed its representatives abroad that it has sent the destitute Bulgarians 18,000 Turkish pounds, and has also taken measures for the speedy rebuilding of their villages.

A STRANGE STORY.

The Wife of a Member of Congress Attempts Suicide at Niagara.

The Niagara Falls Gazette of Wednesday furnishes the following description of a thrilling scene heretofore briefly noted by telegraph:

One of the most exciting scenes ever enacted transpired in Prospect park Tuesday afternoon. A lady with a little child in her arms jumped into the river from the parapet wall at Prospect park, and but for the Providential interference of a hackman would have succeeded in her design to kill both herself and her little child by being carried over the American fall.

Quite a number of strangers, with two or three villagers, were standing around Prospect Point about 4 o'clock, when a hack was driven up with a lady and a little girl about four years old in the carriage, entered the park, and was driven up to the point, where the lady and child alighted and descended to the parapet wall on the brink of the fall. The driver leisurely followed his party, and was standing in the extreme corner of the point area, on the very brink of the cataract, when he heard some of the ladies standing near him scream, and turning around he saw his lady passenger with the child clinging to her skirts, in the water right under his eyes. Like a flash he grasped for the woman, and providentially proceeded in securing hold of her dress. A stranger, Mr. L. Anthony, of Sandusky, Ohio, witnessing the transaction, sprang to assist the driver, and fearing the child would loose its precarious hold on its mother's dress, he seized the little girl, when the mother threw her arm around her and curtly requested the gentlemen to "let the child alone."

By this time several persons had come to the assistance of the driver and stranger, and the lady and child were with considerable difficulty lifted over the wall and taken to the carriage. After she had been taken from the water the mother reproachfully questioned one of her rescuers why they had not let them (herself and child) alone. Mr. Neilson, the president of the park, entered the carriage with the lady, and together they were driven to the International hotel. The little girl cried piteously from the fright she had endured and from the chill of the wet clothing. The mother's entire thought, after she had been saved, appeared to be centered in the little child. She carefully wrapped it up in a water-proof cloak, and immediately upon arriving at the hotel and being taken to a room where there was a fire she undressed the little girl, had her thoroughly warmed and put to bed.

In answer to the interrogatories of Mr. Neilson the lady reluctantly gave her name as Mrs M D Danford, wife of Hon. Lorenzo Danford, of St. Clairville, Ohio, the representative of the sixteenth Ohio district of the present house of representatives at Washington. She said she had come to Niagara for the purpose of throwing herself and child over the falls, but gave no reason for entertaining and attempting to carry out such a terrible purpose. She disclaimed any intention of making a second attempt upon her life or upon the life of her little daughter. She objected strongly to having her husband notified of her presence here and of suicidal attempt, but finally yielded her consent, saying that perhaps it would be "better for him to know all."

Telegrams were immediately sent to Mr. Danford, at St. Clairville, acquainting him with the fact of his wife and child being at the International, and of the unsuccessful attempt to commit suicide. The telegraph operator at St. Clairville answered that Mr. Danford was absent from home, that he had telegraphed himself of the matter, and would do all that was possible for him. A telegram from Mr. Danford himself, dated Cadiz Junction, Ohio, has since been received, saying that he had started for Niagara falls.

Both mother and child suffered from nervous prostration after being taken to the hotel, but the little girl has quite recovered from her fright, and Mrs. Danford is quietly awaiting the arrival of her husband, who is expected tonight. A party of residents of St. Clairville, Mrs. Danford's home, are at the hotel, and have sought an interview with Mrs. Danford, with whom they are personally acquainted, but without success. These acquaintances say that Mrs. Danford is a lady of unexceptional character and of great personal worth; that she is connected with the treasury department at Washington, and probably came here direct from that city. Of her husband they say that he is a cultivated gentleman and a kind husband and father, that he was a widower with three children when he married the present Mrs. Danford, and that the little girl now with his wife is the sole fruit of their union. The explanation of Mrs. Danford's conduct which they can conceive is based upon sole domestic trouble, though there is not the supposition of any criminal relations entering into the matter. Mrs. Danford is a lady of by no means unprepossessing appearance, while the little girl is quite pretty. The child apparently does not fully comprehend the terrible nature of yesterday's experience.

The Author of "I Would Not Live Alway" Presented With a Purse of $20,000.

New York Sun, 24th.

Dr. William A. Muhlenberg, the founder of St. Luke's hospital, and author of the beautiful hymn, "I would not live alway, I ask not to stay," was on Sunday presented with a purse of $20,000 by his friends, he having on that day attained the age of eighty years. Dr. Muhlenberg is the great-grandson of Henry Melchior Muhlenberg, and was ordained for the ministry of the Protestant Episcopal church in 1817. He founded, in 1828, a school at Flushing, afterward known as St. Paul's college. In 1846 he became rector of the church of the Holy Communion, New York, built by his sister, the earliest free Episcopal church. Not long afterward, says "Appleton's Encyclopedia," he began his efforts to secure the founding of St. Luke's hospital, which was opened in 1858. Among his works are "Music of the Church," the "People's Psalter" and "Church Poetry." The presentation of the $20,000 was a complete surprise to the venerable divine.

UNDER the treaty of annexation it was wisely provided, at the instance of Old Hickory, that western Texas could come in as a state whenever it had population sufficient and desired to do so. Western Texas is now preparing to file a claim under that treaty.

THE Dahlonega Advertiser seems to think that the re-establishment of a mint in its town is a matter for the next general assembly, instead of congress, to consider. But the Advertiser wants a mint, no matter who pays for it. Mr. Hill is the right man to explain to congress the need that has recently arisen of a mint in the gold belt of Georgia.

NINETY-two per cent of the Vermont voters and nine-five per cent of those in Maine went to the polls and voted this mouth. So full votes were never before known in New England. What per centage of your vote, democrats of Georgia, will you cast next Wednesday? The struggling democrats of Ohio and Indiana await an answer.

THE democracy of Monroe county adopted the two-thirds rule, ballotted for candidates for representatives sixty times, adjourned without action, and, says the Advertiser, the weary and sorrowful delegates filed in mournful procession out of the hall. After a while our people will learn that the majority rule or the primary election system is democratic, sensible and sure.

MAJ. JOS. L. WARREN, sick with the fearful fever, writes from his bed that his present illness and his business interests forbid an acceptance of the renomination tendered him by the democracy of Chatham. It is well known, says the Morning News, that it was with much reluctance that he accepted the position of representative, which, in the last legislature, he filled with so much credit to himself and benefit both to his county and the state at large. He now positively declines, and his place on the ticket is to be filled tomorrow.

THE SEVENTH DISTRICT.

In an article urging the electors generally to do their duty, we did not except the work that Gen. Wofford is doing in the seventh district. The first and seventh districts will, we are glad to say, be well canvassed. Messrs. Rogers and Hartridge are at work in the one, and Messrs. Wofford and Dabney in the other. But the other seven districts—how is the campaign progressing in them? The second district will undoubtedly be well canvassed, but we fear the other six are not in a condition to poll a full vote next Wednesday. The election of next week is the more important of the two—that is, a full vote is more important in October than in November. Nothing short of active efforts can bring out such a vote next Wednesday.

In our effort to arouse the people's advocates to action we did Col. Rogers and Gen. Wofford injustice. They are doing all that men can do to bring out the strength of the party. Gen. Wofford writes as follows of the canvass in the seventh:

I have been at work for the democracy since the 9th day of August. I am confining my efforts to the 7th congressional district, because here work is needed. I am doing all I can to prevent the district being handed over to Felton and Hargrove. And I am glad to say, in the light of the facts now being developed of combinations between Felton and the radical leaders, that the democracy of the district are waking up to the true state of the case, and will elect Dabney as a reproof of such affiliations.

SUPREME COURT.

Decisions Rendered in Atlanta, Ga., September 26, 1876.

HON. HIRAM WARNER, CHIEF JUSTICE, HONS. L. E. BLECKLEY AND JAMES JACKSON, JUDGES.

Exclusively Reported for the CONSTITUTION by Henry Jackson, Supreme Court Reporter.

Smith et al, vs Cook. Equity, from Baker.

WARNER, C. J.

This was a motion for a new trial as stated in the bill of exceptions, in an equity cause, in which Hamlin J. Cook was complainant and F. P. Smith and D. D. Smith were defendants, on the trial of which, it is alleged that a decree was rendered in favor of the complainant, but the record before us does not disclose the fact that any verdict or decree was rendered in the cause which this court can either affirm or reverse. If the record contains a full and complete exemplification of the case as the clerk certifies it does, then it is still pending in the court below, for there does not appear to have been any final disposition of the cause as required by the 4250th section of the Code. This case came within the ruling of this court in the case of Bean & Co. vs Hadley, decided at the present term. Inasmuch, therefore, as the record brought here by the plaintiff in error, does not affirmatively show that any verdict or decree has been rendered in the cause which this court can either affirm or reverse, it is ordered that the writ of error be dismissed.

Vason & Davis; A. L. Hawes, for plaintiff in error.

Strozer & Smith; R. F. Lyon; R. N. Ely, for defendant.

Hines et al, vs Munnerlyn et al. Equity, from Decatur.

WARNER, C. J.

The complainants filed their bill against the defendants praying for a partition of certain described property therein mentioned between them and the defendant Munnerlyn as tenants in common, and to enjoin the defendant Arnett from selling any part of said property as mortgagee of Munnerlyn by virtue of a fi fa issued on the foreclosure of his mortgage. On the trial of the injunction bill, the jury under the charge of the court, found the following verdict: "We the jury, find and decree, that the complainants are entitled to one-half interest in the real estate as owned by Mrs. Hannah Munnerlyn and C. J. Munnerlyn at the time of Mrs. Hannah Munnerlyn's death, to-wit, the following lots and fractional lots of land, 340, 348, 352, 364, 363, 388, 387, 386, 385, in the 20th district, also 258, 257, 256, 255, 259, 260, 261, in the 21st district. Also, that the complainants are entitled to all the rents, profits and issues received from the aforesaid interest as managed by C. J. Munnerlyn, before the time of Mrs. Munnerlyn's death to the date of the mortgage given to F. G. Arnett, with interest included, amounting to $6,712 00. We further find and decree that one-half of the land mentioned in the large mortgage, to-wit: lots, and parts thereof, 349, 348, 352, 364, 363, 388, 387, 386, 385, in the 20th district; also, 258, 257, 256, 255, 259, 260, 261, in the 21st district; and all the land mentioned in the small mortgage, to-wit: 262, 263 and 264, in the 21st district, (except 167 acres of lot 264 relinquished by F. G. Arnett,) conveyed to F. G. Arnett by mortgage to satisfy a promissory note against Munnerlyn, principal of the above note $6,250 00, with interest added, amounts to $9,910 31. We further find and decree that the mortgage held by F. G. Arnett has precedence to the indebtedness of C. J. Munnerlyn, the complainants."

The complainants made a motion for a new trial on the several grounds set forth therein, which was overruled by the court, and the complainants excepted. It appears from the evidence in the record that C. J. Munnerlyn, the father of the defendant in the bill, died intestate, leaving the defendant and his mother, Hannah Munnerlyn, his heirs at law, that they lived together and enjoyed the property left them by the intestate as tenants in common until the death of the said Hannah, who, by her last will and testament, devised and bequeathed her one half interest in the property inherited from her deceased husband (the same being undivided) to the complainants. The defendant C. J. Munnerlyn, after his mother's death, mortgaged the entire interest in the several lots of land in controversy to the defendant Arnett, to secure the payment of $6,250, which the said Munnerlyn was indebted to him. One of the main questions in the case made on the argument here, was whether Arnett, the mortgagee, should be enjoined from proceeding to sell the mortgaged property until the complainants as tenants in common with the mortgagor, could have their interest and share in the property mortgaged by their co-tenant, ascertained, set apart, and partitioned to them, as the same existed at the death of their grandmother, without regard to the incumbrance of the mortgage so far as their rights and interest in the property were concerned. There can be no doubt that Munnerlyn, the co-tenant of the complainants, could not convey or mortgage the joint property so as to affect or prejudice their title to, or interest in it as tenants in common, notwithstanding he may have attempted to convey or mortgage the entire interest in the property. There can be just as little doubt that the complainants were entitled to have the property partitioned between them, and their cotenant, C. J. Munnerlyn, without regarding the mortgage executed by him by Arnett. In view of the facts of this case, a court of equity properly had jurisdiction of it for partition. Code 3,183. Another one of the questions made here, was whether the complainants, as tenants in common, were entitled to have a decree out of the corpus of the property on a partition for the exclusive use thereof by Munnerlyn, their cotenant, since the death of their grandmother. On the part of the defendants it was insisted that the exclusive use of the joint property by Munnerlyn, the cotenant, only created a debt in favor of the complainants as against him, and that that debt created no lien upon the joint property or upon Munnerlyn's half of it.

Whilst it may be true that the complainants have not strictly a legal lien upon the corpus of the joint property, or upon their cotenant's half of it for what he may be indebted to them for the exclusive use of the joint property, still the complainants have a clear equitable right on a bill filed for partition and account against their cotenant, to have his share of the joint property charged with such indebtedness in the decree for partition, the more especially when their cotenant is insolvent, as in this case.—1st Story's Equity Jurisprudence, sections 654, 655, Code sec. 3185 Whether their co-tenant is justly indebted to the complainants in view of their maintenance and education, etc., whilst he was in the exclusive possession and control of the joint property, and what amount, must necessarily depend upon the evidence. Inasmuch as Arnett is interested as mortgagee of Munnerlyn's interest in the property, after a just and equitable partition thereof, he may contest the indebtedness of Munnerlyn to the complainants, if Munnerlyn himself should fail to do so. Whilst it may be true, as a general rule, that the undivided interest of a tenant in common can be levied on and sold when there are no obstacles in the way or incumberances on the property, yet; when their are such obstacles in the way or incumberances on the property, as will prevent a sale of the property for a full price and enable the purchaser thereof to obtain a good title, it is the better and safer practice to ascertain by a decree of the court what are the rights of the defendant to the property levied on before a sale thereof. The decree in this case should have made an equitable partition of the property between the tenants in common, either by commissioners for that purpose, or otherwise, as prayed for in complainants' bill, and then left Arnett to proceed to collect his mortgage fi fa out of that portion of the joint property which may be decreed to Munnerlyn, the mortgagor.

Let the judgment of the court below be reversed.

J. C. Rutherford; W. O. Fleming, for plaintiffs in error.

R. F. Lyon; D. A. Russell; O. G. Gurley, for defendants.

Davis, executor, vs. Clarke et al. Equity, from Calhoun.

WARNER, C. J.

This was a bill filed by the complainant against the defendants for the purpose of correcting a credit which had been made on a note given by two of the defendants for the balance of the purchase money due by them for a settlement of land which they had purchased of the complainant, he giving them a bond to make titles when the purchase money should be paid; on the allegations as to the manner by which said credit was caused to be made on the note, and also alleging a combination between the defendants by means of a sale of the land under a tax execution and otherwise to defeat the collection of the complainant's debt, with a prayer that the land might be decreed to be sold for the payment of the balance of the purchase money due therefor. On the trial of the case, the court required the complainant to elect whether he would proceed for the purchase money due, or for the recovery of the land, whereupon his counsel elected to proceed for the purchase money. The defendants then moved the court to strike Bell and the two Tomlinsons from the bill on the ground that they were not then proper parties to the bill, and that no decree could be rendered against them, which motion the court sustained, although during the argument of that motion the counsel for the complainant asked the privilege to withdraw the election they had been compelled to make, and to elect a recovery of the land. After the names of Bell and the two Tomlinsons had been stricken from the bill, the counsel for Clark & Hankins moved the court to dismiss the bill for want of jurisdiction, which motion the court sustained and dismissed the complainant's bill. To all of which said rulings of the court, the complainant excepted.

In our judgment, in view of the allegations contained in the complainant's bill, the court erred in requiring the complainant to elect whether he would proceed for the purchase money due, or for the land The complainant was entitled to a hearing and trial upon all of the equitable grounds alleged in his bill, which, if true, would have entitled him to relief.

This ruling of the court requiring the complainant to make his election, being erroneous, the subsequent orders, striking Bell and the Tomlinsons from the bill, and then dismissing it for want of jurisdiction, was also error.

Let the judgment of the court below be reversed.

Patillo vs Cutliff et al, Commissioners. Certiorari, from Dougherty.

WARNER, C. J.

This case came before the court below on a certiorari from the road commissioner's court of Dougherty county. After hearing the certiorari, the court overruled the grounds of error alleged therein, whereupon the plaintiff in certiorari excepted. It appears from the record that Patillo, the plaintiff in certiorari, had a portion of the public road assigned to him to work under the provisions of the 621, 622, 623 and 624th sections of the Code, that the road commissioners summoned him before them for neglect of duty in not working the road which had been apportioned to him, and he failing to appear, they fined him fifty dollars. Whether the commissioners summoned him before them for neglect of duty in not working the road assigned him, or for failing to appear and answer the summons, is not so clear, though it would seem that he was fined for failing to appear and answer the summons, as there does not appear to have been any evidence before the commissioners that he had neglected to keep the road assigned him in good repair, and the 624th section only authorizes the penalty imposed on commissioners to be imposed on those who have a portion of the public road assigned them when they neglect to keep it in good repair, but their hands are liable for the usual road fines imposed on other road hands for neglect of duty. Thus it will be seen that the imposition of the usual road fines upon the hands assigned to a person with which to work a portion of the public road, for neglect of duty in not keeping that road in repair, is one thing. The imposition of a fine upon the one who procures a certain portion of the public road to be assigned to him to work with a specified number of hands, for neglect of duty in not keeping it in repair, as is imposed on commissioners of roads for their neglect of duty, as provided by the 661st section of the Code is another, and quite a different thing. In the one case the road commissioners have jurisdiction and authority to impose the usual fines on the hands for neglect of duty in not keeping such apportioned road in repair. In the other, the person who procures and accepts a portion of the public road for himself and hands to work and keep in repair, and neglects to do so, is made liable to all the penalties and forfeitures to which commissioners are liable for neglect of duty. To what penalities and forfeitures are commissioners liable for neglect of duty under the law and in what manner is that liability to be ascertained? The liability of road commissioners for neglect of duty is to be ascertained by the presentment of the grand jury, and an investigation of the charge, as provided by the 661st section of the Code, and if the accusation is made out by proof, the judge shall fine the commissioners not less than fifty nor more than one hundred dollars. Now, as the plaintiff in certiorari is made liable to all the penalties and forfeitures to which commissioners are liable for neglect of duty should not his liability be ascertained in the same manner and by the same tribunal as commissioners? The plaintiff in certiorari was a quasi commissioner of the road and hands apportioned to him, and it was evidently the intention of the legislature that he should be punished as such for not keeping that road in good repair, as he undertook to do when he accepted the same. The jurisdiction of justices of the peace is limited to the sum of one hundred dollars, and surely it could not have been the intention of the legislature to give to road commissioners a greater or more extensive jurisdiction than justices of the peace; and yet they would have, under the power and authority claimed for them in this case, jurisdiction to impose a penalty of two hundred dollars. In our judgment, the road commissioners did not have jurisdiction to impose the penalty of fifty dollars for neglect of duty in not working the road apportioned to the plaintiff in certiorari, but in order to subject him to the penalty as prescribed by the 661st section of the Code he must be proceeded against as provided by that section. Whenever the jurisdiction of a court is one of limited power and authority, and it is a doubtful question whether it has jurisdiction of the subject matter in controversy, the safer rule is to deny the jurisdiction. The refusal to sustain the plaintiff's certiorari and overruling the same, was error. Let the judgment of the court below be reversed.

R. N. Ely, for plaintiff in error.

D. H. Pope; B. B. Bower, W. T. Jones, for defendants.

Brinson, administrator, vs. Wessolowsky, administrator. Murphy et al. vs. the same. Equity, from Dougherty.

WARNER, C. J.

There were two bills of exceptions to the judgment of the court in this case by different creditors who were plaintiffs in error, and both were argued together. The case came before the court below on exceptions made to an auditor's report, when it was agreed that the case should be submitted to the decision of the court without the intervention of a jury. On hearing the case, the court overruled the exceptions, whereupon the plaintiffs in error excepted.

The court under this submission was bound to have decided the exceptions in the same manner that a jury would have done, under the provisions of the 4,203d section of the Code. The facts, as reported by the auditor, the court was bound to recognize as being prima facie the truth, unless controverted by evidence on the hearing, which it is not pretended was done in this case. The judgment of the court in this case was like the verdict of a jury, and will not be set aside unless it is without evidence to support it. So far from the decision being without evidence to support it, the only evidence before the court, was the auditor's report, which was prima facie the truth—Code 3,097. The legal presumption is, that the conclusion of the auditor was right under the evidence before him, unless controverted by other evidence. When there is an error of law apparent on the face of the auditor's report, wholly irrespective of the evidence on which it is based, then the court can correct that error by its judgment. But that is not this case, the allowance or disallowance of the respective claims which were before the court embraced in the auditor's report, was based on the evidence before him. Whether the respective claims were legal or illegal, properly or improperly allowed by the auditor, depended on that evidence, and as the auditor's report was prima facie the truth, and the evidence on which it was based not being controverted there was no error in overruling the exceptions, on the statement of facts contained in the record.

Let the judgment of the court below in both cases be affirmed.

Joseph Ellis vs. Paul F. Hammond, executor, el al. Ejectment, from Calhoun.

JACKSON, J.

1. Where a deed to land is made on Sunday, and the money paid, the possession of the land having been previously given to the vendee, the law will leave the parties where it finds them. Both being in pari delicto, although the contract consummated on Sunday be illegal, the courts will not interfere. 44 Ga. 642, 541; 3 Kelley 182.

2. Payment in confederate money made in April, 1865, both parties being ignorant of the surrender of the confederates, was good. 34 Ga. 227.

Judgment affirmed.

Bower & Crawford, for plaintiff in error.

No appearance for defendants.

John Lowe vs. The State. Simple larceny, from Dougherty.

JACKSON, J.

1. An indictment for simple larceny in stealing hogs at the same time and place, though alleging that one is the property of one person, and the other of another, covers but one transaction, and charges but one offense, and judgment thereon will not be arrested.

2. Proof that defendant stole one of the hogs is sufficient to convict under such an indictment.

Judgment affirmed.

Vason & Davis, for plaintiff in error.

B. B. Bower, solicitor general, for the state.

Walters, executrix, et al, executors, vs. Montgomery, receiver. Injunction, from Dougherty.

JACKSON, J.

1. It must be a very strong case to authorize a court to hold that a receiver of an estate had no power to sell when authorized to do so by an interlocutory decree in chancery, if indeed it should be so held in any case at all.

2. Representations at the sale by the receiver that the land is free from encumbrance is the truth, and no fraud upon the purchaser, if, though the land be levied upon by judgment and fi fa against a former vendor and the claim case be then pending, it result that there was no encumbrance by the verdict of the jury that the land is not subject but is the property of the receiver's estate, especially if the levy was notorious and proclaimed at the sale. In such a case caveat emptor applies with double force, and the chancellor did right not to disturb the sale or grant an injunction.

Judgment affirmed.

Vason & Davis; Z. J. Odom; D. H. Pope, for plaintiffs in error.

Warren & Hobbs, contra.

Dennis Mills vs. The State. Burglary at night, from Decatur.

JACKSON, J.

1. The fact that the name of one of the grand jury who found the true bill was not in the jury box from which jurors are drawn, is not good ground for arresting the judgment, or for a new trial, after verdict. The objection should be made before the case is submitted to the jury. 53 Ga., 432—75 602.

2. A new trial will not be granted on the ground of newly discovered evidence which is merely cumulative, and tends, too, only to impeach the character of a witness sworn on the trial.

3. If the evidence, though conflicting, be sufficient to authorize the verdict, this court will not control the discretion of the presiding judge in refusing to grant a new trial.

Judgment affirmed.

D. A. Russell; Gurley & Townsend, for plaintiff in error.

B. B. Bower, solicitor general, for the state.

Bleckley, J., having been of counsel, did not preside in this case.

Tarver and Colquitt vs. Ellison. Claim, from Calhoun.

JACKSON, J.

1. The levy upon and sale of land by virtue of execution issued on a judgment junior to a mortgage, not foreclosed, conveys to the purchaser only the property sold, which is the equity of redemption, or its equivalent in this state, which is the estate in the land subject to the mortgage debt, and such sale diverts the lien of a judgment older than the mortgage only upon that interest or estate in the land which is sold.

2. If there be not money enough raised from the sale of this equity of redemption, or interest in the land subject to the mortgage, to pay off the judgment which is older than the mortgage, an execution issued upon such older judgment may be levied upon the residue of the estate in the land, and being older than the mortgage it will sell the land free from its encumbrance, and the title of the purchaser will be good against the mortgage.

Judgment reversed.

TWO LETTERS.

BY CHARLES P. RICHARDSON.

Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper.

HIS.

If you were dead and in some silent valley
A red wild rose were blooming on you,
In some lone fen where idle breezes dally
And somberly green willow branches wave,

With willing feet I oft would stand above you
And with sad eyes your moss-grown name spell out,
Thinking that once each said to each, "I love you!"
In those far days before we dared to doubt.

But no, you are not dead; the world adores you,
In splendid radiant cheek or dainty wrist;
That on your supple throat there still is growing
A queenly coil of pearl and amethyst;

Our love is dead so you are dead twice over,
Though on your face have dropped no mourner's tears;
And you and I, who were once maid and lover,
Are further sundered than the furthest spheres.

But stars and spheres—
Oh! what a silly letter
A plain and prosy man will sometimes write.
I'm sentimental and you can't do better
Than laugh at me, once more, with all your might.

The fact, you see, is this: I can't forget you;
In all our quarrels I alone was wrong;
And I've been blue enough since last I met you,
A month ago; it seems ten times as long.

Oh! Edith, could I only go and see you,
And tell you all the things I want to say;
I cannot give you up; I will not free you;
I love you Edith. May I come to-day?

HERS.

Why, Tom, dear Tom, of course you may—
You see I call you Tom again;
So please come over, right away.
You oddest, truest, best of men!

To tell the truth I've pitied you,
And you, most likely, pitied me;
But then, you know, it wouldn't do
To let the world my pity see.

You men, of course, are very wise,
And think you know a woman's heart,
But bats and owls have brighter eyes
Than you to understand her art.

You were just hateful, though, that night;
But I'm afraid I make very ill use
Tom, drop our quarrel out of sight—
Forgive, forget, and let it go.

Well, Tom, I'll not write any more,
Although, indeed, I've much to say.
My music master's at the door,
So au revoir, and come to-day.

P. S.—You frightened me to death
With "willow," "valley," "grave," and "fen,"
Dear me! I almost lost my breath!
Tom, don't you dare do so again!

Allied Enemies to Health.

In many of the fairest and most fertile districts of North and Tropical America, air and water are allied enemies of health, both being impregnated with the poisonous miasmata which produce chills and fever, bilious remittents and febrile disorders of a still more malignant type. Fortunately, a sure preventive and curative of such destructive maladies is to found in Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a vegetable preparation which is infinitely to be preferred, both on account of its efficacy and freedom from all hurtful properties; to the dele terious mineral and alkaloid remedies of the pharmacopœia. It is moreover, the reigning specific for dyspepsia, debility, constipation, urinary troubles, rheumatism and nervousness, promotes appetite and sleep, and is a capital antidote to depression of spirits.

Important to Parents and Guardians

MOUNT DE CHANTAL

Academy of the Visitation,

NEAR WHEELING, WEST VIRGINIA

PARENTS in quest of a first-class school for their daughters, will do well to investigate the claims of this celebrated Academy. For thoroughness in every department of female education, Mt. de Chantal ranks pre-eminently high. Great attention is given to perfect the pupils in writing and speaking French with fluency. For those sufficiently advanced, it is the language of their recreation hours. The purity of accent and correctness of pronunciation acquired in this Institution have been a subject of surprise to the native Parisian. The renown for the superiority in music is so wide spread as to have made this Academy almost a national one. One feature, in particular, that should recommend Mt. de Chantal to the sensible parent, is the influence exercised to form the pupils to views and habits of economy and to render them really practical and useful women of society in after years. Simplicity in dress is enforced by rule.

These facts, united to the exceedingly moderate rates of board and tuition ($200 per annum,) will we trust, secure to this school as large and desirable a patronage in the future as it has enjoyed in the past.

For further particulars apply for prospectus to the Directress of Mount de Chantal Academy of the Visitation, near Wheeling, West Virginia.

Centennial Exhibition

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

THIS GREAT INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITION, DESIGNED TO COMMEMORATE THE ONE HUNDRETH ANNIVERSARY OF AMERICAN INDEPENDENCE, WILL OPEN MAY 10th AND CLOSE NOVEMBER 10th, 1876. All the Nations of the world and all the States and Territories of the Union will participate, bringing together the most comprehensive collection of art treasures, mechanical inventions, scientific discoveries, manufacturing achievements, mineral specimens, and agricultural products ever exhibited. The grounds devoted to the Exhibition are situated on the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad and embrace a few hundred and fifty acres of Fairmount Park, all highly improved and ornamented, on which are erected the largest buildings ever constructed—five of these covering an area of fifty acres and costing $6,000,000. The total number of buildings erected for the purpose of the Exhibition is over one hundred.

The Pennsylvania Railroad

THE GREAT TRUNK LINE

AND FAST

Mail Route to the United States, will be most direct convenient and economical way of reaching Philadelphia and this great Exhibition from all sections of the country. Its trains to and from Philadelphia will pass through a GRAND CENTENNIAL DEPOT, which the Company have erected at the Main Entrance to the Exhibition Grounds for the accommodation of passengers who wish to stop at or start from the numerous large hotels contiguous to this station and the Exhibition—a convenience of the greatest value to visitors, and afforded exclusively by the Pennsylvania Railroad, which is THE ONLY LINE RUNNING DIRECT TO THE CENTENNIAL BUILDINGS. Excursion trains will also stop at the Encampment of the Patrons of Husbandry, at Elm Station, on this road.

THE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD IS THE GRANDEST RAILWAY ORGANIZATION IN THE WORLD. IT CONTROLS SEVEN THOUSAND MILES OF ROADWAY, FORMING CONTINUOUS LINES TO PHILADELPHIA, NEW YORK, BALTIMORE, AND WASHINGTON, OVER WHICH LUXURIOUS DAY AND SPLENDID PARLOR CARS RUN FROM CHICAGO, ST. LOUIS, LOUISVILLE, CINCINNATI, INDIANAPOLIS, COLUMBUS, TOLEDO, CLEVELAND, AND ERIE, WITHOUT CHANGE.

Its main line is laid with double and third tracks of heavy steel rails, upon a deep bed of broken stone ballast, and its bridges are all of iron or stone. Its passenger trains are equipped with every known improvement for comfort and safety, and are run at faster speed for greater distances than the trains of any line on the continent. The Company has largely increased its equipment for Centennial travel, and will be prepared to build in its own shops locomotives and passenger cars at short notice sufficient to fully accommodate any extra demand. The unequalled resources at the command of the Company guarantee the most perfect accommodation for all its patrons during the Centennial Exhibition.

THE MAGNIFICENT SCENERY for which the Pennsylvania Railroad is so justly celebrated presents to the traveler over its perfect roadway an ever-changing panorama of river, mountain and landscape views unequalled in America.

THE EATING STATIONS on this line are unsurpassed. Meals will be furnished at suitable hours and ample time allowed for enjoying them.

EXCURSION TICKETS, at reduced rates, will be sold at all principal Railroad Ticket Offices in the West, North-West, South-West.

BE SURE THAT YOUR TICKETS READ VIA THE GREAT PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE TO THE CENTENNIAL.

What a "Sport" is Doing.

"The gambler is an outlaw," say the statute books and the judges of the law. But they are men and have human passions and human feelings, and frequently their acts of charity and benevolence put to the blush the vaunting alms of those who claim higher grace in the eyes of God and men. As an instance of this we may state that there is a gambler—"a sport" he calls himself—who has contributed already to the relief of the yellow fever stricken people of the coast more than one hundred dollars. He does not write down his name but sends the cash and says he is ready to answer every other appeal. We did not learn the fact from him, but from one of his friends.

A Benefit to Man

GALLANT FIREMEN OF ATLANTA.

Old Comrades Appeal for Help.

ATLANTA, GA., Sept. 26, 1876.

May I not, as an old fireman, ask you to consider the following appeal, and if you have not already acted in behalf of the sufferers in Savannah, solicit your contributions for the Metropolitan Benevolent association, composed as this organization is, exclusively of old firemen of that stricken city?

SIDNEY HERBERT,
Special Relief Agent.

METROPOLITAN BENEVOLENT ASSOCIATION,
SAVANNAH, Sept. 25, 1876.

"The Metropolitan Benevolent association," (formerly the "Metropolitan Fire company") ask for contributions of money, provisions, and clothing from the benevolent at home and abroad, to aid them in relieving the sufferings of the sick and destitute in the city of Savannah.

Although the Association has relieved all cases reported to it to the extent of its means, the funds of the association are exhausted and they appeal for aid to enable them to continue their labors.

Many families, heretofore in comfortable circumstances, are in want, and the association is unable to extend relief to them.

Contributions of money, provisions and clothing, forwarded to the association, or its president, will be acknowledged through the columns of the Morning News.

To the citizens of Savannah and other cities, and the gallant firemen who have associated with us in time past, we appeal for assistance confidently believing that this appeal will be answered.

J. H. ESTILL, President.

The Metropolitan Benevolent association having given up their fine hall for a hospital and propose to supply its necessities as well as distribute to outside sick and poor. Please notice this fact and oblige.

The ceremony occurred at the residence of the bride's father on Decatur street. Quite a number of the friends of the parties, were present and at the conclusion of the ceremony partook of a sumptuous repast. Ice cream and cake were served up in abundance. At 1:35 the newly wedded left on the A. & W. Pt R. R. for Macomb, Mississippi, their future residence. May the God of peace and prosperity smile ever upon them, and the schedule of their lives know no abrupt changes or untoward accidents.

The Festival Last Night.

The festival given last night by the ladies of the Second Baptist church in the double store next to Chamberlain, Boynton & Co. was largely attended. The ladies of the Second Baptist church never fail to make a success of anything. A handsome sum was netted. The demand on our columns prevents a more extended notice. The handsome table of Mrs Hinton P Wright and her supporting graces was made more attractive by the surroundings The Rebeccas at the well, Misses Eloise Johnson and Annie May Slaton, made the delicious beverage dispensed more inviting. Miss Johnson would make a superb Queen Esther. Miss Norman Jackson furnished flowers little less superb than herself.

Brunswick's Condition

We are permitted to make the following extract from a letter to Mrs. D. J. Dillon of this city:

September 23, 1876.

"I was sent to Col Chas L Schlatter's to attend his daughter, Mrs Fannie Westmoreland, whose case, I am happy to say, yields readily to the ordinary treatment. The Methodist minister, Dr Simmons called for me and I spent a few minutes at the mayor's office with the city board, which had met for the purpose of doing something for the sufferers The mayor informed me that there are scarcely enough well people to bury the dead, much less nurse the sick. Altogether the condition of things is indescribable. The city is spread over some three or four miles space, which makes it difficult to reach the patients. The sick as a general thing, are poor people, who were compelled to remain at home and submit to the consequences. So far as I have been able to learn they are in great need of everything—nurses, food and medicine. If you can possibly get help in Atlanta do so, as they are entirely depending on the charity of the outside communities.

MRS. A. E. B.

"Pestilence."

INNOCENTS IN TROUBLE.

THE STREET WALKERS AT THE RECORDER'S LEVEE.

Racy Scenes in the Police Court Room

The street walking nuisance has for some time past been almost unendurable. Gentlemen and ladies have been repeatedly annoyed by hearing obscene and improper conversation in their presence, and some streets were to a great extent avoided after dark on this account.

The police officials determined to put a stop to this business, and Monday night the patrollmen were ordered to arrest every suspicious woman they found out after half past nine o'clock. The result was that by mid-night, the guard house was filled to overflowing and could only be compared to a small pandemonium. It resounded with yells, curses, and songs that could be heard about two blocks off.

Among the noted arrivals was that of Lizzie Patterson. As usual, she put up a stubborn fight, and it required three officers to bring her.

The names of the girls who were arrested are as follows:

Whites—May Wood, Mary Pratt, Harriet Watson, Ella Car.

Colored—Eve ——, Mary Dyer, Jane Carter, Jane Maddox, Mollie Willis, Ann Scott, Fannie Tolbert, Fannie Williams, Silvey Walker, Rachel Hall, Manda Manning Sallie Bolton, Nancy Bryan, Elizabeth Lee, Susy Thompson, Lizzie Patterson, Amanda Scott, Pete Rigzings, Mary Patterson, Sue Battle, Margaret Reese, Lillie Coleman.

The police court yesterday morning presented a scene that almost baffles description. The cells below were crowded to suffocation with the victims of the preceding night's raid upon the street walkers, and the yells, songs and curses of about twelve hours' duration, were beginning to subside into tolerable quiet. Still it was by no means a safe business for any outsider to pass the windows in front. If he stopped for a moment to see who was within he was forthwith saluted with a torrent of abuse and obscenity. One of the prisoners, a white girl, whose presence was evidently her first visit to the guardhouse, spent the night rolling as if her confinement was only a prelude to being taken out when court met, and hung. Most of the prisoners were old birds who had been there before, and took the situation quietly.

THE COURT ROOM

upstairs was thronged with as ragged and dirty a crowd as we have ever seen congregated there. Niggers from every station of life except the respectable, were on hand, and back of the bar the phalanx of wooly heads was one solid enough to form a floor. Some few of these individuals were witnesses for the defence; the others had neither business nor money, and were there out of mere curiosity. A few lawyers looking anxiously about for a fee, a few white boys who could have more profitably spent their time elsewhere, a sprinkling of policemen and a couple of reporters, completed the audience.

A crowd, when not otherwise engaged is disposed to poke fun at somebody, and this crowd was no exception to the rule. A tremendous shout caused all eyes to be turned to the door, and there stood a regular attendant upon the recorder's court, commonly known because of his inexpressible ugliness by the name of Cupid, By the time Cupid had advanced to the center of the hall the cause of the commotion of the crowd became apparent The upper half of Cupid was gotten up regardless of expense while the lower half had been sacrificed to effect this object. A two story beaver was perched just above his left eye, but the blackness of the beaver was lost in the blackness of the hide below. Cupid's intellectual countenance was just discovered beneath a shirt collar that threatened to engulf him alive, and starched so stiff that to turn his head would have involved the loss of his ears Next appeared a coat buttoned up so tightly as to suggest the possibility of there being no shirt beneath it, and here Cupid's grandeur ended. Compassion for Cupid's needs forbids any notice. Suffice to say that they were threatened with an instantaneous and universal dissolution, to prevent which required extremely cautious walking. Of Cupid's shoes, only the toes and a fragment of the heels were visible. The balance of the space was occupied by a rag, or what used to be white stocks While Cupid was smiling affably upon the assembled multitude a voice in his rear, saluted him as follows: "Say, Cupe, is

YER COW GONE DRY.

I see you is got de chuin on yer head" Before the insulted youth could reply, another colored brother wanted to know, what de debble was the matter with Cupe's shoes. A third suggested that "some of the de gals must hab stepped on Cupid's foot last night when dey was running from de police" These remarks were greeted with shouts of laughter and were accompanied with some invidious comparisons between Cupid and an aged ram which came very near producing a fight between the insulted youth and Jake Morris, who was standing just in his front. At this instant a prolonged cheer from below gave notice of the approach of the prisoners, and all noise in the courtroom was hushed.

His honor looked anything but happy as he took his seat upon the throne of justice, and realised the amount of business he had before him.

Business was dispensed rapidly. The ball opened with

BYRON ROGERS (COLORED),

who was charged with throwing rocks and using indecent language on the streets. He was fined $10 and costs.

Creesy Stone, a dilapidated negro woman, was induced to pay the same amount for abusing a white lady, who had ordered her out of her house.

Emanuel Broun was likewise fined $10 and costs for blocking up the street with his mules and raising a row with a drayman who wanted to pass.

Cora Taylor and Sarah Smith had a set-to in a Decatur street restaurant. Mean whisky and no money was the cause. They go up in default of $10 and costs, apiece.

Charles Robertson and Lou Phillips disputed each other's word, relating to the ownership of a nickle From talking they betook themselves to boxing. $10 and costs apiece is what the city wants.

Steed Biggers was next arraigned as being a member of the street-walking brigade. She proved her innocence and was discharged, but as she was in the act of leaving the room some evil spirit prompted her to ring out "Good-bye to you all," whereupon she was brought back before the offended judge, and received $5 and costs for contempt of court

Lizzie Patterson plead guilty to total and hopeless depravity She was sentenced to twenty days hard work upon the streets.

Eva Berry, who was spreading herself generally over two or three streets, and wouldn't come along when the officer wanted her to, received $5 and costs.

Mary Dyer swore that she was on her way to the theater but got to the guard house instead. She had a white gentleman to vouch for her character and was discharged.

Jane Maddox and Mollie Willis were also discharged.

Ann Scott, who has recently returned from a twelve months' sojourn in the chain gang, received $5 and costs.

Fannie Talbert, Rachael Hall, Fannie Willis, Silvey Walker, Sallie Bolton, Amanda Manning and Nancy Brown were all proven to be prominent members of the Willingham brigade. They were fined $5 and costs.

Elizabeth Jones was discharged.

Sue Thompson, a played out remnant of what used to be a white woman, and one of the very worst nuisances that infests our streets, was fined $5 and costs.

Amanda Scott, a church member, and Maggie Reese who was guilty of only going home were turned loose to their great satisfaction.

Mary Ann Woods, Mattie Pratt and Harriet Watson, all white girls, threw themselves outside of a few quarts of whisky, and then into a hack, from which they cursed out everyone that they passed. Their accounts with the city foot up $10 and costs.

Emma Carr, for street walking was fined $5 and costs.

Lizzie Bell and Guilford Hines, who saw fit to laugh in court when there was nothing to laugh at, were fined $1 apiece for contempt.

This concluded the business and court adjourned.

The Magnolia House.

This excellent house is located at Gordonsville, Virginia. Trains coming south from Washington city stop here for dinner. We advise parties wishing a fresh healthful, well cooked meal, butter, eggs, milk and chickens in abundance to dine at this house; in fact, let all be sure to stop there.

A SPLENDID SCHEDULE.

Railroad Men Moving in the Matter of Relief.

ATLANTA, September 26, '76.

At a meeting of the railroad men of Atlanta held this evening at the reading room of the Kimball house, W D Chipley, general southern agent of the Virginia Midland route was called to the chair, and L L McCleskey, freight and passenger agent Port Royal railroad, and H H Marmaduke, southern freight and passenger agent of East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia and A. M. and O. roads, secretaries On motion of Thomas Nunan, agent of the St Louis and Southeastern road, the following resolutions were adopted unanimously:

Whereas, our sister cities on the coast are in the most dire distress and destitution from the scourge now upon them which is daily increasing in fatality and adding each town to their want. And, whereas, we hold and believe that no class are more accessable to the appeal of the unfortunate than the fraternity of railroad men.

Therefore, be it resolved, That the chairman and secretaries of this meeting be authorized and requested to issue such a circular as will bring the terrible want of the coast cities to the attention of the profession throughout America to the end, that they may contribute their mite to a fund to be known as a railroad fund, for the relief of the yellow fever sufferers of the south.

The chairman and secretary, a committee by authority, have embodied the above proceedings in a circular, to which they add the following:

To the railroad men of America—No words that can add to the above resolution can convey anything like an adequate idea of the terrible scourge which has prostrated some of the south Atlantic coast cities whose utter destitution the above appeal is intended to aid. If the railroad men of America would send a dollar each, or even less, they will create a fund which will stand for all time a noble monument to their profession. We enclose an envelope addressed to the "Merchants' bank, Atlanta, Ga.," in which please make your remittance. The bank will hold the fund subject to the check of Col. L. P. Grant, superintendent of the Atlanta & West Point road, to be used where most needed. The receipts each day will be acknowledged through the daily press of Atlanta.

On motion of Chas A Sindall, secretary of the Southern Railway and Steamship association, a resolution was passed asking the railroad guides and other railroad publications of the country to publish the appeal.

The chairman of the meeting read a dispatch from Capt Jno A Grant, superintendent of the M & B road, saying he was sending circulars to the mayors of the cities of the union for the mayor of Brunswick.

The Merchants bank have received the following contributions to the RAILROAD FUND.

CASH doll, $10; W D Chipley, $10; R R & W Brenn, $10; L L McCleskey, $10; H H Marmaduke, $10—total, $50.

This is an effort in the right direction and the well known liberality of railroad men stamps it at its very inception a noble success.

Kiss in the Dark.

It was deep dark—he had been home some time—his wife had gone out in the afternoon and as yet had not returned—he could not get in the house—he loitered in the yard and on the pavement—a street car approached along the track—the bell rang—of course it was his wife—he hid behind a tree—the car stopped—the lady got out and tripped to the sidewalk—he caught her and kissed her heartily—of course it was NOT his wife—it was the lady who lived on the street below—TABLEAU!

THE UNITED STATES COURT.

Hon. John Erskine, Judge.

The courts were assembled at 10 o'clock.

Almost the entire day was occupied in the the trial of W T Aycock for illicit distilling. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

In the case of the United States vs five packages of distilled spirits, containing 167 gallons of corn whisky, 3 mules and 1 wagon, H J Kisselburg claimant, a verdict was returned of a forfeiture.

In the circuit court, Clarke Sewell and Pleasant Whitner, defaulting witnesses, were sentenced to 20 days imprisonment in Cobb county jail.

Dennis Whitner was discharged.

Court then adjourned until 10 a m, today

The Streets Last Night.

The good effects of the recent raid of the police upon the army of street walkers were very apparent last night. Our thoroughfares were freer from improper characters than they have been in many months. After nine o'clock women without escorts were as scarce as hen's teeth. It was the intention of the police to have continued the raid but there were none for them to arrest. Only four cases had been made up to midnight. We trust that the good work will be carried on until this outrageous evil is put completely down.

Off the "Hooks."

Last evening about nine o'clock, Mr. —— Hooks, a young lawyer of this city appeared at the United States court rooms with one W T Adams of Clayton county in custody and was in search of some one to whom he could deliver up the said Adams. It seems that Adams is charged in that court with some dealing in "crooked whisky," and sometime ago gave bond for his appearance at this term of the court. Hooks was on his bond and had occasion to take him into custody and bring him in, but he found no one at the court house last night but the clerk and the district attorney, and neither of them could be prevailed upon to take the prisoner. Mr. Hooks left Adams in the clerk's office and stepped into the attorney's office to consult him, and just as he stepped out of the clerk's office, out stepped Mr. Adams. The clerk supposed Adams accompanied Hooks into the attorney's office, but when Hooks returned it was found Adams was gone—was "off the Hooks."

The Social Evil.

The Griffin News indulges in the following:

"The Atlanta papers complain of 'bad women' appearing in the dress circles of the theatres. Well, we can't help it, some of them will even persist in going to church. This should at once be stopped. 'Bad men' can be converted, and can go to shows, so they pay their money; but 'bad women'—oh, of course not!"

They should have added to this:

N B—This is sarkasm.

"Birds of a feather flock together," is an old maxim, and while it is a matter of taste, "just owing to how a man is raised," about associating with this class, no matter what the predilections of the editors of the News may be for such society, we doubt whether they will allow "bad women" to sit by their wives, daughters and mothers in public assemblies.

PROBABILITIES—South Atlantic States: cooler northwest winds, rising barometer, and partly cloudy weather will prevail, followed by clear weather.

—The Woman's Missionary society of the Second Baptist church will meet in the lecture room of the church at 4 p m to-day. The employees of the Singer sewing machine company sent the society $27.

WILLIAM PITT EVELYN, the regular correspondent of the New York Times in Paris, was a colonel in the confederate army. He is of an old Virginia family, a scrupulously well-dressed man of the cavalier type, and his manners have all the savoir faire of gentle blood. He is a great friend of the Bonapartes, who have more than once honored him with a knowledge of their plans.

THE representative rifle team of America is still to be constituted It would consist of these experts: Belknap, Blaine, Landaulet Williams, Robertson, Bill Kemple, Boss Shepherd, Jay Gould. These are the great American rifiers. They have attained wonderful proficiency by long practice in the republican range, and we challenge the world to beat them.

BUFFALO BILL, the Indian scout, who has reached his home in Rochester, N. Y., speaking of Generals Crook's and Terry's difference in temperament, said to a reporter a few days ago: "General Crook slept on his blanket, made his own coffee and broiled his own bacon. General Terry had a bed brought with him, a portable cooking range and an extension table. We could not travel fast enough to catch the Indians, as we would break the dishes."

Special Notices.

Thrash's Consumption Cure and Lung Restorer.

CENTRAL RAILROAD & BANK'G CO., OF GEORGIA,
ATLANTA, GA., June 4th, 1876.

Messrs. J. T. Thrash & Co., Griffin, Ga.:

GENTS—Please send me (as before) one largest size bottle of your "Consumption Cure and Lung Restorer"—true to name. It is the only remedy now extant for consumption and bronchial throat and lungs. Other remedies, so numerously recommended, are but temporary palliatives, that do any good but for a short while; whilst your Consumption Cure and Lung Restorer gives relief at once and will permanently cure. My experience with remedies for the relief of the throat and lungs probably exceeds that of but very few persons, physicians or otherwise. I have been very near the point of dissolution of soul from its afflicted tenement; and have used every remedy ever heard of; the effect appeared only to procrastinate the sufferings of my mortal existence. Seeing Dr. Lovic Pierce's certificate of your medicine, and being well acquainted with the reverend doctor for nearly forty years, and consequently knew well his afflictions, concluded that your remedy might do me good, at least I had never used, and as I had used every other remedy known or heard of, concluded at once to give it a trial. I sent to you for a bottle. You are aware, and after using it, I purchased more from Messrs. Hunt, Rankin & Lamar, this city. Before the first was exhausted I was fully convinced of its good effects; and after or about the time of the use of the last two, I could speak easily, and could sing; a thing I could not have done for three year or longer; and have been able to lie down comfortably and sleep soundly, a comfort that I had not enjoyed for a long time. I have been using the remedy about twenty days, and unhesitatingly certify that it is a cure for consumption and all affections of the throat. My lungs commenced exhibiting signs of disease in March, 1858, the result of measles, a cough ensued and continued to grow worse. April, 1874, I was so feeble that I could not attend to business of any sort, and was forced to give up and come to Atlanta that I might be near my good old mother to breathe out my last on earth: the never-tiring attention of that mother and your Consumption Cure and Lung Restorer has saved me and I now feel as if my life might be spared me several years longer, Indian remedies, German remedies, and French remedies to the contrary. Respectfully,

JOHN H. MEAD.

For sale by Hunt, Rankin & Lamar, Pinson & Holt, and Theo. Schumann.
